- RCEB change in structure: Lindsay Meninger began as Director of Client Services at RCEB August 2026!
- RCEB Social Recreation procedure:
RCEB has recently implemented a new procedure around social recreational services to better align with our mission. You may notice a shift in assessments at the time of annual review (IPP meetings). The goal is to support meaningful, social and recreational opportunities that align with IPP goals while ensuring services remain equitable, sustainable, and available to individuals and families over the long term.

- Explain revision timelines
 - Illustrate process using RCEB examples
 - Describe budget certification
 - Describe Spending Plan certification

Enrollment and Subsequent Year Timelines: Why They Matter

Participants, families, and Independent Facilitators need predictable timelines and visibility into budget certification, spending plan reviews, and service revisions to be able to effectively plan for their services.

When someone in Traditional Model switches to SDP, Traditional Model Purchase of Services end the day before SDP begins.

Revision Timelines:

Plan ahead when requesting revisions to your spending plan.

- Revisions typically require about 3 weeks to move through submission, review, and approval.
- Approved revisions become effective the following month and cannot be applied retroactively.
 - Example: A revision submitted on September 8 will become effective October 1
- To allow sufficient time for review and processing, and responsible planning revisions should not be submitted during the final two months of the SDP period.

Exception to submission recommendations: Changes related to health and safety.

Current Challenge

SDP planning takes about four months from Budget discussions to final e- billing approval. RCEB receives many requests for revisions a day. As an SDP period approaches its end date, review of revisions for the current period overlap with planning for the upcoming period, which can significantly increase the volume of requests being processed at the same time.

What does this look like for our SDP team?

Each of the SDP/PCS Specialists average about 30 transactions each month. Each "transaction" includes:

1. Sending the Individual Budget for certification
2. Review of Spending Plan, including corresponding to Participant Spending Plan updates
3. Liaise with FMS
4. Write Purchase of Service for SDP FMS

When a revision is requested close to renewal:

Our team is reviewing changes to the current plan while simultaneously working with the family on the next plan. Across 600+ enrollees, these overlapping processes can add up quickly.

How Long Does a Spending Plan Review Take?

When a Spending Plan contains details of the service RCEB is purchasing pursuant to the IPP, a Spending Plan can be processed, including ebilling, in about 3 weeks. When a Spending Plan contains only service codes and spending allocations, more review is required and it can take 4-8 weeks.

Illustrative Timeline

How Overlap Happens

When a revision is requested near the end of an SDP period, our team may be working on two processes at the same time.

Thank you for partnering with us!

Illustrative Timeline

How a Triple Overlap Happens

Near the end of a 12-month SDP period, an extension can add a third process happening at the same time.

During the final 1-2 months, our team may be processing:

Revision

Extension

Subsequent Year

Thank you for partnering with us!

RCEB Vignette #1

Participant SDP Period: April 1, 2025-March 31, 2026

Extension Requested: March 23, 2026

Extension: April 1, 2026-May 31, 2026

Subsequent Year: June 1, 2026-May 31, 2027

Spending Plan Review Example

SDP Period : April 1-March 31

Spending Plan Submission	Spending Plan Review Time	Requested Processing By:	FMS needs final by
Spending Plan Review #1 Extension: March 17	March 18- April 8	March 20	March 31
Spending Plan #2 Extension: March 12	March 13-April 2	April 1	March 13
Spending Plan Review #3 Subsequent Year: March 5	March 6-March 26	May 5	April 9

The overlapping review periods create a significant workload impact . Staff manage three interconnected transactions at once, reconcile differences across each plan, and meet different processing and FMS deadlines while earlier spending plans are still under active review

Regional Centers have a responsibility to support continuity of authorized services and avoid unnecessary disruptions for participants. When spending plan changes are requested at the very end of an SDP period, the Regional Center must balance that responsibility with the time needed to properly review, approve, and implement each plan.

Last-minute revisions, extensions, and subsequent-year plans can create overlapping processes that are difficult to implement reliably and are not a sustainable way to operate the system.

Early planning helps preserve participant continuity of services.

5 Tips For Revisions:

1. Plan Ahead

- Submit revision requests early. Revisions take approximately 3 weeks to move through review and approval.

2. Revisions Are Forward-Looking

- Changes become effective the following month and cannot be applied retroactively.

3. Start with a Strong Spending Plan

- Carefully review projected expenses at the beginning of the enrollment period to minimize the need for later revisions.

4. Avoid Restriction Periods

- Revisions should not be submitted during the first month of enrollment or during the final two months of the grant period.

5. Communicate Changes Early

- Notify your Case Manager/SDPS as soon as needs change so impacts can be addressed before they become urgent
